A COMBINATION WITH DEMOCRATIO SENATORS PROPOSED. The Trust Committee Makes a Report-It Lets the Standard Oli Trust Of Eastly, but it is Merciless on the $3,100 Milk Trust-The Auti-Pinti Senators are Averse to Conciliation, and Won't Caucas.

ALBANY, March 6 .- There is a big split among the Republican Senators. The Platt men tried to have a caucus to-day, and the anti-Platt men would not go into it unless the Platt men would agree not to attempt to bind all the Republican Senators to support Mr. Platt. So bitter are the Platt Senators that they have offered to pass a bill making Edward Kearney of New Col. Fred Grant of New York Quarantine Commissioners if Senators Murphy, Foley, and Langbeln will go with them. As Senator Lewis has backslided, there are only seven anti-Platt Senators now, the same number as there were Platt Senators in the last Senate. That leaves ourteen Platt Senators. Three more Senators are needed to have a majority of the Senate, and as there was little hope of reclaiming more than one anti-Platt Senator, the Platt men have turned their attention to the Democrats, and think they have captured three. Mr. Edward Kearney is a County Democrat, and member of the State Committee. The other two men are Republicans. Col. Grant has previously been a candidate for Governor, Secre-tary of State, Quarantine Commissioner, and a few minor places.

A call for a caucus of the Republican Benators was issued yesterday, and the Senate adjourned at 1 o'clock to-day to give sufficient time for the Republicans to act in harmony. When the Senate adjourned the Platt men started toward the caucus chamber. The anti-Platt men did not start. They refused to go unless the caucus were regarded as a confer-Platt men offered conciliation, but, as Senator Coggeshall expressed it in a side remark. Yes, we'll conciliate them. We'll conciliate them with a club."

The seven anti-Platt Senators did not like this idea, and they went to their luncheons, leaving the Platt Senators to conciliate themselves with their clubs. The Platt men held a sort of a rump caucus, and the quarantine matter was discussed. It was agreed to act with the Democrats if enough Democrats could with the Democrats if enough Democrats could be had to make a majority of the Senate. The feeling was against the present nominations of the Governor-McLeer, Leary, and Breelin-because the anti-Platt men want Gen. McLeer to succeed John A. Nichola. The new men-kearney, Grant, and Burke-are satisfactory to the Platt men. and if they can hold the three Democrats they will have a majority of the Senate. There are more anti-Platt men proportionately in the Senate than in the Assembly, as James William Husted, who is naturally an anti-Platt man, lacks backbone. This fight between the Platt and anti-Platt men is too bitter to be fixed up now.

At the caucus the following letter from John A. Nichols to Senator Vedder was read:

"Some time ago you introduced a bill to reorganize the Quarantine Commission, which bill named me as a Commissioner and President of the Board. Alter baving been reported favorably to the Senate, this bill was laid aside, according to the daily papers, until Senator Fassett's bill to reduce the Health Officer's lees, &c., had passed both Houses. I am informed that the latter bill is likely to pass during the current week, and I infer, therefore, that you will then move the Commission's bill. In view of such a contingency, I write now to ask you to withdraw my name from the bill, in the hope that such a course will tend to promote a more harmonious feeling among the Senators, and consequently in the party."

The Platt men decided to amend the bill and take Burke, Kearnoy, and Grant. The Commistion of McLeer, Leary, and Bresiin, met, and, in accordance with the decision of the caucus, voted to report adversely the Governor's nominations. There will be a fight as soon as the report is made in the Sonate, Senator O'Connor has a petition signed by the commanders of all the Grand Army posts in Brooklyn in favor of the confirmation be had to make a majority of the Senate. The Trust Investigation Committee made its report to the Senate to-day. It is remarkable for its bad English and its weakness. Chairman Arnold of the investigating committee was not in the Senate and left word that he had been called bome by sickness. The printed report was read, but no action was taken except to receive it. The report recites that the committee conducted an investigation in New York, and in a sentence that takes up thirteen lines of the pamphlet it says that it had a delicate job. The list of investigated trusts is:

The Supar Trust the Mik Trust the Rubber Trust, the Cottoneed Gi. Trust, the knyelops Trust or Combination, the standard Oil Trust, the Butchers Trust or Combination, the Giasa Trust or Combination, the Furniture

The Sugar, Milk, Cottonseed, and Standard Oil Trusts are discussed at some length. The report gives a short summary of each of the trusts, and a little discussion about them. Of the Sugar Trust it says:

the Sugar Trust it says:

On the Cottonseed Oil Trust the committee is more severe. After a summary of the formation of the trust, as developed by the testimony before the committee, the report says:

tion of the trust, as developed by the testimony before the committee, the report says:

The main, and, in fact, the avowed object of this trust is however, to see and keep control of the manufacture and as e of cottonseed oil, and to that end it buys up, destroys, or assimilates all individual industries of its own kind within its reach. The Standard Oil Trust, which has a capital of $90,000,000, and at least one State Benator who is elected to look after its interests, is treated with the distinguished consideration that belongs to so much wealth. After stating the facts about the Standard Oil as follows:

the committee says: "The committee regrets that they are not able to make a more complete and satisfactory report as to the method of its operations and its effect upon public interests." After this exhibition of grammar and thought they say as pleasant things about the Standard Oil Company as Mr. Rockefeller could write. they say as pleasant linings about the Standard Oil Company as Mr. Rockefoller could write.

After these nice things the committee delivers this eloquent peroration and recommendation, the English and sense of which are equally plain:

Patitions were received from 40,000 Grand Army men in favor of the election of the Rev. Dr. Lowell as Chaplain of the Senate. He is a Republican, but the Democrats moved to elect him, and he was defeated by Republican votes because he is not in accord with the party on the prohibition question.

Upon this basels it, Joseph, Mo., must be set down as one of the most active and progressive cities of the country of the most active and progressive cities of the country of the most active and progressive cities of the country of the most active and progressive cities of the country of the most active and progress of the great West. In order to give the reader a lain idea of tho growth in bank clearances for one year, the following figures are given, the time being from December 15, 1881 to December 15, 1887: The total clearings for 1887 were 589,521,893, as against 545,431,544 for 1889, being an increase of £3,171,792, or 51.1 per cent. This show-ing is unprecedented in the history of this thirving city, and speaks volumes for her prosperity, and the dures, such as are obtainable, at point to the fact that in popu-lation, in commerce, and in manufactures there has been the same advance as in bank clearances. The city continues to grow very rapply, and the outlook for the year just then ordered, and it is believed that it, will be also made at 21,590, is not less than 82,000.—4dv.

The trading in stocks to-day was only about half as extensive as yesterday, but so far as prices were concerned the market was better. London contributed somewhat to this result, since the market for American securities there and there was a cessation of foreign selling orders. The local feeling was decidedly more hopeful. This feeling was encouraged by the advices from the West indicating less probability of an extension of the engineers' strike than at any time since it began. The street was also furnished with some indications that the strike has seriously interrupted the war programme that had been laid out by some of the Granger roads, and that in consequence conclusion much sooner than would have been Prices began to improve from the opening.

upon the circulation of rumors that the strike compromised. The market did not react upon the denial of these rumors, probably for the reason that there is some basis for them. The final dealings were quiet, and interest in the stock market suffered from the diversion in petroleum that was the feature of the last half hour. However, the early improvement was well maintained, and the list, as a rule, closed fractionally higher than yesterday. But none of the advances were material. The heaviest trading was in Reading. Lackawanna, Richmond Terminal, and St. Paul. In no other stocks did the transactions exceed 10,000 shares. The movement in Richmond Terminal was attended by a report that some of the dissatished stockholders are trying to organize with a view of affecting a change in the management. As this is manifestly absurd, it might as well be disposed of now before it becomes fixed in people's minds as a probability. Probably, after the President of the company fulfils the promise that he made at the last election, the efforts referred to will be discontinued.

In the Unlisted Department Cotton Oil Trusts sold at 29 to 29%, Georgia Pacific at 20%, and 2s, at 52%, and Western National Bank at 95. The closing was firm, though not at the best prices.

Prudence! Prudence! In medication, as in aught else, prudence should be our guide. Yet thousands cast it to the winds. Every new nostrum finds its patrons, the medical empirics of every false school have their guils. Every change in the gamut of humbug is rung successfully-for a time at least—the notes being furnished by the credulous. In happy contrast to the many advertised impostures of the day stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, now in its third decade of popularity, approved and recommended by physicians, endorsed by the press of many lands, ought and prized by invalids everywhere. It is an as certained specific for and preventive of malaria dis-cases, chronic indigestion, liver complaint, and consti-pation, checks the growth of rheumatism and neuralgia, is a pecries in vigorant, and useful diuretic. Ner-rous people benefit by it.
